

ARE YOU READY TO GO GREEN?

NAHB Green is a set of resources and tools that allow any home, anywhere to go green. Through education, construction rigor and accurate home performance, NAHBGreen brings national, state and local home building industries together for America's green homeowners. Now, home builders and remodelers all over the country can take advantage of this voluntary, market-driven and cost-effective way to think green, build green and sell green.

NAHBGreen includes:

- Online Design and Scoring Tool — an online tool for designing and scoring your green home to the NAHB's green rating systems, including the NAHB Model Green Home Building Guidelines and the upcoming National Green Building Standard™.
- National Green Building Certification — a comprehensive certification system that includes a network of trained and accredited third-party verifiers and a central, national certification agent—the NAHB Research Center.
- State and Local Green Building Programs — a network of home building associations that provide NAHBGreen services as well as complementary offerings unique to a region.
- Certified Green Professional™ — educational designation that helps green builders stand out by demonstrating their commitment to training, professionalism and continuing education.
- National Green Building Conference — provides training, product reviews and networking to builders, remodelers and others in the green residential building industry.
- NAHB National Green Building Awards — honors excellence in green residential design and construction practices and green advocacy efforts.
- Green Building Resources — a growing list of publications available from BuilderBooks including NAHB's upcoming National Green Building Standard and Build Green & Save: Protecting the Earth and Your Bottom Line.
